

Antonio Banderas Takes On Bob Marley

Spanish-born actor, Antonio Banderas, is taking on a version of a popular Bob Marley song in his latest film.

Banderas, who turns 50 this year, returns to the big screen as the suave and charming orange cat Puss-In-Boots in Shrek: Forever After, the fourth and final installment of the blockbuster series.

The actor, film director, film producer and singer does a more mellow version of Marley's 'One Love' in the movie.

'The version that we did was just me singing and a Spanish guitar, softer even than Bob Marley's version', commented Banderas. 'I knew the song perfectly, by heart. I grew up on Bob Marley, and my wife (Melanie Griffith) never lets us take a car trip without some of his music in the car.'

Shrek: Forever After opens in 3-D everywhere on May 21st.

'One Love/People Get Ready,' was song by Bob Marley & The Wailers from their 1977 album Exodus. It was first recorded in a ska style by Marley's original group, The Wailers, on their 1965 debut album, 'The Wailing Wailers.'
