

Bolt May End Career In 2016

The world's fastest man, Jamaican-national Usain St. Leo Bolt, may hang up his running shoes in another five years.

Bolt told the German newspaper Welt am Sonntag that he plans to end his career in 2016.

The Olympic champion and world record holder in the 100 and 200 meters says at a certain point, he finds it tedious to do the same thing and win.

Bolt, 24, reiterated that before leaving active sports he wants to try the long jump, but the priority now is to defend his titles at the next World Championship in South Korea.
