

HBO announces 2013 programming for Caribbean

HBO Latin America announced its programming for 2013, which includes the big screen hits, award-winning original TV series and other highly acclaimed productions.

Blockbuster titles such as The Dark Knight Rises, Hunger Games, The Help, Brave and The Avengers, as well as the premiere of new seasons of HBO original productions Girls, The Newsroom and Veep, will headline HBO's 2013 stellar programming. Other returning series include Game of Thrones, True Blood and Boardwalk Empire. "As leaders in premium television, we continue to offer the best movies and documentaries, as well as unique and exclusive series with top-of-the-line technology onscreen and through our SVOD digital platform. Our 2013 line-up will definitely exceed our subscribers' expectations and will continue to provide a one-of-a-kind television experience that only HBO can offer," said Emilio Rubio, president of HBO Latin America Group.
