

Mr. Vegas to premiere new reality show

Dancehall superstar, Mr. Vegas has been no stranger to drama throughout his illustrious career and now looks to stir some up in a brand new reality show he is set to unveil in the near future

On Wednesday, the highly-acclaimed singjay confirmed he is in the early stages of planning the reality series, Bruk It Down in Reality, which takes a behind the scenes look into the life of a Dancehall queen. Auditions will be held as hundreds of women from across the world compete for 12 spots on the show. The 12 women selected by Mr. Vegas will then be given the chance to live with him as well as selected judges in his home while he mentors each of the contestants. Auditions from the show are set to commence in November across the United States, including in Miami, New York and Los Angeles. Meanwhile, Vegas, who has been promoting his newly-released Bruk It Down 2.0 studio album, says he is working on a new remix album for VP Records. Additionally, he is working on a remix to his single, Party Tun Up, which will feature former nemesis Sean Paul, with whom he fell out with several years ago over their hit song, Hot Gal Today.
