

Miss Jamaica for place third in Miss World Talent contest

Dr. Sanneta Myrie or Miss Jamaica World 2015 proved to the world that she is not only trained in the medicinal arts but that she is also a true performing artiste.

The 24-year-old danced her way into third place in the Miss World Talent contest in Sanya, China just hours ago. Shortly after beating over one hundred competitors, Myrie took to her Facebook page to announce the achievement. "'Exodus' choreographed by the Quilt Performing Arts Company and performed to a reggae fusion of Damian Marley & Mutabaruka. 3rd place at Miss World Talent Finals 2015 held tonight in Sanya, China," said Myrie who never hesitates to state her admiration for Jamaican artiste Damian "Junior Gong" Marley. Myrie's post has racked up nearly 400 likes as her followers were very proud of her achievement. "Congrats love u r our first place winner," one follower commented. "Go Sanneta I knew you would do well. Talented long time." "Like our Doctor Bird so are you!!!!" "Congrats Jamaica!!!!!! JAMAICAN TALENT to the world!!!!!!!!!!" A previous post on Myrie's Facebook page announced that Miss Guyana placed first in the talent contest and second place went to Miss Malaysia. The finals of the Miss World competition will be held on Saturday December 19 in Sanya China.
