Win A Trip To The Caribbean Courtesy JN Money Transfer

JN Money Transfer is giving persons living in selected states in the United States who send remittances to family and friends in the Caribbean a chance to win a round trip to a Caribbean destination of their choice.

The JN Money Transfer “Escape to the Caribbean” promotion, which started in February, offers two persons living in the U.S., who send remittances to the Caribbean, the chance to win a round ticket to a Caribbean destination of their choice up to April 30. The promotion is open to residents in the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Massachusetts, Washington DC, Florida and Georgia. And, all entrants in the promotion must be at least 18 years old as of February 14, 2016. “We are aware that persons living in North America work hard to support their families; and, may not always have the opportunity to visit their homeland; therefore, this promotion is to reward two of our lucky clients,” said Gabriel Heron, Group Marketing & Brand Manager of JN Money Services, owners and operators of the JN Money Transfer brand. “This is our way of giving clients the chance to connect directly with their family, at our cost; and they have that possibility each time they send a money transfer or pay a bill,” he said. Mr. Heron pointed out that it is easy to enter the competition. Each time a customer sends money through JN Money Transfer from their location in the USA, or make a bill payment from the participating regions up to April 30, they will automatically be entered into the JN Money Transfer “Escape to the Caribbean” Promotion. “The drawing will take place on May 13; and winners must complete travel by September 30, 2016,” he stated.
