

Boyfriend Is A Badwud Cusser

Dear EMPRESS,

I just broke off with my boyfriend because he was constantly telling me badwords. We have only been together three months and I really love him very much but I cannot manage his aggressive behaviour. He keeps calling me and telling me that he is willing to change but I don't believe him. I spoke to him several times about the badwords, and he changes for a day, then goes right back. He even told me badwords in front of my friends. I even fear that he is the type who will hit me, because he boasts a bout beating up his ex-girlfriend. Should I go back?

- Lonely in Birmingham

Dear Lonely in Birmingham,

If you want to become this man's punching bag, or the sponge for his abusive behaviour then you can go back to him. Otherwise "Run like yuh hear news." Take it from di Empress girlfriend, Leopards don't change spots, except the spot that they standing on.

If you say he keeps slipping back to the badwud cussing, that means it is his nature and he has no respect for you. Den pon top of it him a boast how him is a woman beater. Trust mi, is just a matter of time before him start pon you. My advice … RUN HIM!!